

Blake Orr
Director of Forestry Services

Blake Orr is a Georgia registered forester (#1413) who earned Master Timber Harvester status in 2003. As Director of Forestry Services for Greenwood Land, Orr assists private landowners with forestry management decisions.

Prior to joining the company, Orr spent 20 years in the forest products industry. He began his career at Kimberly-Clark where he worked in the scale house and then as a procurement forester in east central Georgia. Orr also worked at Louisiana-Pacific as a district manager and wood procurement manager for a chip mill, and at J.M Huber Corp., he held the position of wood procurement manager for the Oriented Strand Board Mill in Commerce, Ga.

Orr served six years on the board of directors for the Georgia Forestry Association and is a past chairman of the Society of American Foresters chapter for the Gainesville-Athens (Ga.) area. He has worked in various capacities for Ducks Unlimited, from chapter chairman to district chairman. Orr also served on the Georgia State Committee of Ducks Unlimited for four years, including one year as a MARSH committee member searching for new project locations.

Orr earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Forest Resources from the Warnell School at University of Georgia. He lives in Gainesville, Ga., where he enjoys spending time with his wife and children.
