

Greenwood Land Investor Summit

If you have ever considered investing in real estate, you can't afford to miss this event!

There couldn't be a better time to learn about investing in rural real estate and timberland. Financial experts agree that during times of economic uncertainty, land is a great investment, offering significant financial return with less risk than most financial investments.

The Greenwood Land Investor Summit is coming to Atlanta, GA for one day only! Reserve your spot to attend this informative event on November 22nd, being held at the Busbee Center on the Gwinnett Tech campus on Sugarloaf Parkway in Lawrenceville, GA. Call today at 1-800-466-1163 to reserve your seat.

Learn from the experts:

The basics of land and land investment strategies

Land financing

Land valuation methods

Timber value and management strategies

Tax strategies for land owners

Wildlife value and management plans

How to build your own land network

Round table discussion to answer all of your questions

The summit features Don Webb, Founder and President of Greenwood Land Company. Over the years, Don has become widely recognized as the foremost authority on recreational land investment, ownership, management, and resale in the Southeastern and Midwestern United States. As a seasoned and successful investor, Don has a wealth of knowledge and experience in effective land investment strategies. Better yet, he has a gift for teaching others his "highly effective methods" in a way that's not only easy to understand but tremendously entertaining at the same time.

Other speakers include Russ Stewart, Regional Vice President, AgSouth Farm Credit, Beau Henderson, President, All Seasons 1031 Tax Exchange, Jon Gassett, Director of the KY Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Cliff Elliott, President of Elliott Realty and Appraisals, and Blake Orr, Director of Forestry, Greenwood Land Company.

Through a cooperative agreement with The Middle Georgia Institute of Real Estate, this course is approved through the Georgia Real Estate Commission for 6 hours of Continuing Education Credit.
